Weather Conditions.

The eastward advancement of the northwestern high-pressure area to the upper lake region has caused lower temperatures over that section and south-ward into the Ohio valley. The highpressure area still persists over the south Atlantic states, and general weather contions over the south remain practically the same. The rpessure is lowest this morning at Santa Fe, with a secondary low-pressure area centered at Boston. During the past twenty-four hours the precipitation has been light to moderate, occurring principally over the central states and northeastward to the New England coast.

PATRIOTIC LEAGUE TO EDUCATE CITIZENS

Another enthusiastic meeting of the Chattanooga League for Patriotic Dem-onstration was held this morning in the manufacturers' association rooms, when the above name was suggested by Bartow Strang and was adopted and approved. Jack O'Donobue acted temporary chairman and Paul Manker as temporary secretary. Mrs. D. P. Montague was unanimously elected president of the organization. Ten thousand cards are to be printed at once, setting forth the proper coursies to be observed by the public upon occasions of soldiers' funerals, salut-ing the flag and other patriotic demonstrations. These cards will have a re-ply card attached to be signed and re-turned to Jack O'Donohue as custo-The cards will be distributed by the Boy Scouts to all factories and merchants of the city and suburbs for the use of their employes. musical gymnastics made Chattanooga wonder, has still room to improve. But ENJOY MASS SINGING from the viewpoint of the amateur, young Cadek's execution seems remarkably accurate. His touch was light and sure. In even the most difficult selections he seemed confident and well at ease. In selecting his program for Monday evening an especially pleasing choice was made. Kreisler, always popular with American audiences, predomi-nated. This was both in his own compositions and in arrangements by him. There was one composition by Paganini, and one especially happily chosen from Beethoven's offerings.

Possibly outstanding as a point of Fossibly outstanding as a point of sheer beauty and sentimental expression was the rendition of "Ave Maria" (Schubert-Wilhelme), which was given as a final encore, A "Poem," by Febich, another encore, appealed especially to the audience. The "Symphony Espagnole," by Lalo, offered an opportunity for the musician to exhibit a variety of qualities including his masvariety of qualities, including his mas-tery of technique, embodiment of sentimental expression and lightness of touch. "Caprice," by Pagnini, em-embraced the intricate, fantastic charm that characterizes this composer's works. This was appropriately followed by the rendition of "Haberna" (Spanish dances), by Sarasate; delicate threads of sound that seemed interwoven and actually to sparkle with a glad radiance

Local Composition.

A feature of the evening was the rendition of a selection by a Chattanooga musician, Roy Lamont Smith. It was a graceful moledy, showing marked originality and making a pleasing ap-peal. In response to hearty applause the player repeated the selection and the composer took a bow from his box Varying from much of the more pre tentious selections was the typical Kreisler composition, "Fair Rosmarin," which embodies a simple, sweet charm that makes the appeal of the All told, the evening was a fitting climax to the Music club's season. It was one of the most enjoyed programs of the year. The soloist perfect was highly accentuated by the plano ac-companiment of his sister, Miss Lillian Cadek, who has also studied in Switzer-land. Her accompanying consisted of a soft, modulated undercurrent of harmony, never obtrusive and always sus-taining the lead.

> The ceremonial session of Alhambra temple, Mystic Shrine, held at Signal Mountain inn and casino Saturday evening proved an event that will go down in the records of the temple as being not only a record breaker in the number of candidates initiated, but es-pecially in the representation of other temples throughout the country. As a rule, when a temple holds a ceremonial session there is present in addi-tion to its own membership Nobles of the Mystic Shrine who hold member-ship in other temples throughout the United States and Canada, It is doubtful, however, whether many of these temples have had present members representing as many different temples as were present on the occasion of Alhambra temple's spring ceremo-

> The dinner tickets given to all No-bles of the Mystic Shrine required that the holder indorse his name and address and the name of his temple on the reverse side of the card. Dinner was served to 328, of which number 121 were visitors or members of other temples than Alhambra. There were fifty-four candidates, the balance being made up of members of Alhambra. The surprising feature, and which did not develop until the cards were can-vassed Tuesday, was the fact that fifmade up of temples from Maine to California. The largest representation on the part of any temple was Kerbela, Knoxville, eighteen of whose members were present. Next in order came Zamera, Birmingham, with ten representatives; Yaarab, Atlanta, had its representatives; Wacca temple New six representatives; Mccca temple, New York, showed up with three, while Me-dina, Chicago, had two representa-tives. TWO HUNDRED GALLONS OF BEER POURED OUT

Provost Guards Get Tip From Mountaineer and Raid a Moonshine Still.

Two hundred gallons of beer poured out on the ground was the only reward of a recent raid made by the Ogiethorpe provost on a moonshine still on the left side of High Point. Friday an old mountaineer blew into Oglethorpe with a julcy story of a High Point still. He gave specific directions and saw the boys off. The men, under Capt. Alfonzo Zerbec. scoured the suspected country and after some search came to a spot that smelled to heaven of bug juice. Investigation proved that the moonshiners had poured out their singlings, packed up their still and decamped. The mountaineer, whose name is not given here for obvious reasons, had been out at the still on Friday morning The moonshiners knew that he went High Point and ordered an auto for Chickamauga, so they suspected treachery. The result was the birds
